“Geriatric care,” she said. “Pharmacy (I definitely want to go into pharmaceutical studies. Even though the Arizona Assurance Scholarship to attend pharmacy.  Even though the Arizona Assurance Program stipulates participation during a student’s first year, Wong and Dr. Lee have agreed to pair Wong with other mentors and mentees later on. Wong credits Dr. Lee for both her interest in traditional herbal remedies, and some of the knowledge she has about this topic.  Regardless of where her profession takes her, Wong is grateful to those who have helped her to get there.  Her advice to students who are interested in the health care field is to follow in her footsteps and get a degree in geriatric pharmacy and enthusiastic about working with students such as you, to be able to help somebody.  You’re going to leave your mark on the world.  You’re going to make a difference in the way people think about aging, and as we retire, we’re going to be able to help people live longer, healthier lives.”
