Arias' mother, a single parent, worked to provide for her family. "I want to be a physician that provides for his family right now, but when you do graduate and have a job, you may not be directly helping your family. That by taking this next step in his enrollment at the University of Arizona."

"My immediate goal is to help Cambodian women. Students must have at least sophomore standing at the University of Arizona in order to apply. Applications are especially encouraged from members of underrepresented groups and those who have had limited access to financial aid. Qualified externs will be paid minimum wage ($7.65) for 520 hours and 40 hours per week of work. Web registration for summer externships closes May 17.
